A Field For Missionary Effort.
If the American missionaries are thrown out of China in retaliation for the Geary law, it is to be hoped that the American board will arrange to maintain them all for a time in the Pacific states. There seems to be a great opportunity there for missionary effort. Missionaries who have lived long in China may be expected to know more about the Chinese than even the Californians do. If they tackled the Californians, one of two things might be expected to happen. Either they would convert the Californians to better sentiments about the Chinese, or the Californians would convince them that their anti-Chinese persuasions are justified. In the latter case the missionaries could be brought east to correct the views of our part of the country, and it is important that whatever are the right views about the Chinese the whole country should hold them. To have one section of the land maintain views of cheap labor which all the reformers in the rest of the country denounce is a state of things of which the United States has already had all the experience it wants.—Harper's Weekly.

The Seals as Linguists.

Mr. Couderc of counsel for the United States in the Behring sea arbitration case at Paris stated that there could be no comingling of the seals of Alaska and those of Asiatic Russia. The able counsel is probably unaware that prior to 1870 the seals composing the two herds referred to by him were all Russian, spoke only the Russian language, lived and died in Russian style, but as he is so positive that each American seal invariably returns to the islands of St. Paul and St. George and each Russian seal to Copper Island, without an occasional variation, Mr. Couderc may possess some exclusive—very much and exceedingly exclusive—information showing that the Alaskan seals have wholly forgotten their mother tongue and acquired a knowledge of English, and as the Copper island seals converse only in Russian of course comingling of the herds would be an unheard of folly.—Fur Trade Review.

A Novel Test For Drunkenness.

A simple but effective test to decide whether a man is drunk or sober was described by a medical man who gave evidence before the Pontefract bench. Two colliers, who were charged with drunkenness, went to the doctor 10 minutes after they were seen by the police. The doctor made them walk up and down the surgery, which they did in a straight line, and then they stood erect with their eyes closed and held their arms at length with extended fingers. The witness affirmed that the latter was a severe ordeal for persons under the influence of alcohol, and as the colliers passed through it without signs of shakiness the charge against them was dismissed.—London Truth.

Snakes Break Up a Sunday Picnic.

Sunday a party of picnickers of Gas City went to Rock Dam, 2 miles below that place on the Mississippi, for an afternoon's enjoyment. Hardly had they been seated when a huge black snake appeared, to be dispatched by Mr. Pritchard. In a twinkling the rocks were a mass of hissing, writhing, crawling, slimy reptiles of all sizes and descriptions. The party found themselves in a nest of excited snakes. The party fled, of course. The snakes were estimated at not less than 100 in number. Among them were two monsters that are described as not less than 20 feet in length.—Cor. Indianapolis Sentinel.

A Cannon Ball in a Tree.

Two negroes in cutting a great tree in a swamp near Snow Hill, Md., the other day came upon an old cannon ball completely embedded in the trunk. The tree measured 8 feet in diameter, and much of its growth had taken place since the ball found lodgment in the trunk. There has been no artillery firing in that region since the Revolutionary war.

SENATOR COKE ON THE SITUATION.

Replying to certain questions propounded by the New York World regarding the Sherman law and the extra session of congress, Senator Coke of Texas writes as follows:

"I do not believe that a simple repeal of the Sherman law will give relief. If we can get free and unlimited coinage of silver I believe the financial question will be settled permanently, and in my judgment it never will be until that result is reached. I fear this is not practicable, but as the unconditional repeal of the Sherman bill would be equivalent to a total demonetization of silver sure to follow, in my opinion, and being unalterably opposed to this result, I can see no relief in dealing with it unless it is replaced by some act which shall fully and unequivocally recognize the determination of the country to adhere to a bimetallic currency."

"The Sherman act repealed, the Bland act, under which not less than 2,000,000 or more than 4,000,000 standard silver dollars were coined monthly, should be revived."

"To repeal the Sherman act without enacting something at least as good as the Bland act could leave no other conclusion but that the country had deliberately abandoned the promises of the Democratic platform and determined to place itself upon the single gold standard. To avoid any danger of this, I cannot support any act repealing the Sherman act which does not embody the substitute referred to, so that when the Sherman bill goes out of effect, the substitute shall take effect at once."

"To sum up, I believe that as soon as the two houses of congress are organized they should go to work to redeem the promises of the platform with respect to the establishment of a metallic currency, expressing my opinion on the subject to be that the free coinage of silver on the same plan with gold would be the proper mode of doing this, feeling satisfied that an act for this purpose could be buttressed and guarded so as to produce and maintain parity between gold and silver coin and at the same time to go vigorously to work on a tariff bill which shall redeem in good faith the pledges of the Democratic party to the country in the vital matter of reduction of taxation."

INDIAN SOLDIERS A FAILURE.

Senator Proctor of Vermont, when secretary of war under President Harrison, conceived the idea of utilizing the Indian brave by making him a soldier. At his instance fourteen or fifteen companies of red men were organized. Recruiting agencies were established near the principal agencies and the young bucks encouraged to enlist. The Vermonters were elated. He had solved the Indian problem by getting the warriors into Uncle Sam's service, thus precluding the possibility of Indian wars unless the old men and squaws took up arms against the settlers. The young Indians seemed to enjoy the novelty of army life. They liked guns and horses; the government furnished them with both and they were happy. They soon became dissatisfied, however, and on several occasions, when indulging in pay-day festivities and under the influence of fire-water, were more feared by the whites than when they were on the warpath in their native haunts. They deserted in squads and some of those who could not escape in that way paid as much as $150 for their liberty.

Secretary Elkins, who succeeded Proctor in the war department, knew more about Indian character than his predecessor and discouraged the organization of Indian companies. He saw that the experiment was not going to be successful, that the Indian was a failure as a soldier. Now his successor, Secretary Lamont, finds that the red man is worse than useless and as it takes two companies of white troops to guard one company of red ones, he ordered three companies of the latter, or rather the few left in those companies, mustered out of the service. One of these companies was disbanded at Fort Wingate, New Mexico, and the others will be mustered out at Spokane and Fort Walla Walla, Washington. There are a dozen or more companies yet in the service, but they are being steadily depleted by desertions, and as no effort is made to get recruits it is only a matter of a few months until they too will be disbanded.

A BANKER FOR SILVER.

W. P. H. John, president of the Mercantile National Bank of New York, is a firm friend of silver. Combatting the fears of the gold trust, he says: "But suppose, if we must, the worst possible results, a single silver basis for our currency, it can be demonstrated reasonably that this result could be but temporary; and that England would be first and foremost among the sufferers, while we would escape almost unhurt."

"Two years of silver as the sole primary money of the United States would serve to threaten Manchester with ruin. Three years of it would suffice to put the German army to frequent suppressions of bread-riots."

"Coin" says the issue before the country is simply this: "The people want gold and silver placed on an equality before the law and kept there, and at the same rate as previous to 1873. The money power wants silver destroyed as a money metal, driven out as a currency and reduced to the condition of a commodity."

THE SILVER CONVENTION.

A Preliminary Meeting Held at Chicago.

A FATAL TRAIN WRECK.

Senator Martin of Kansas in Favor of Silver.

The Bimetallic Convention.

CHICAGO, July 24.—A preliminary meeting of the Silver convention was held to-day, General Warner, president of the bimetallic league, in the chair. It was decided that the convention be held for three days. The first meeting will probably convene in Reel hall of the Auditorium Tuesday, August 1st, then a mass meeting will follow Tuesday evening at Central Music hall. Wednesday evening there will be a monster mass meeting on the lake front, to which "all laboring men and friends of honest currency are invited." The mass meeting will be addressed by Congressman John Davis of the Knights of Labor of Kansas, Senator Jones of Nevada and Senator Peffer of Kansas. This will be the first grand rally of silver men east of the silver states before congress meets. It is intended to make of this open air meeting on the lake front in Chicago the grandest demonstration of the silver element to be given. An attempt will be made to have present as orators all the great senators and other mouthpieces of the silver element of the west.

Battle Between Lepers and Troops. HONOLULU, July 18, via San Francisco July 25.—A battle has been fought between provisional government troops and lepers on the island of Kawai, in which two soldiers were killed. The lepers fired from ambush. Another soldier was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. All the lepers surrendered except Koolani, the leader, and his wife and child. They escaped out of the valley and are hiding in the mountains. Koolani is the man who killed Sheriff Stolz about a month ago.

Wholesale Poisoning.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 24.—One hundred and forty members of the First Brigade of the New Jersey National Guard now in camp at Seagirt have been prostrated by some mysterious poison, the nature of which is not known. It may have come from oxalic acid gathered in the tin cups which were stored since last summer. It is not thought that any of the men will die.

Home Rule.

LONDON, July 24.—The commons, sitting as a committee of the whole on the home rule bill this evening, discussed Gladstone's new financial clause, in which it is proposed that Ireland's contributions to the imperial exchequer shall be one-third of her total revenue for six years. Goschen for two hours analyzed and criticized the program. Shortly before midnight Chairman Mellor applied the closure, and the clause in question was adopted, 226 to 191.

Will Receive No More Silver.

CHICAGO, July 24.—All day to-day as bank employes carrying sacks of silver coin entered the United States treasury, they were confronted by a notice to the effect that silver would not be received at present. One of the officials said that silver had been going in so fast that there is more of it lying uncounted than the force can handle, and until it can be counted and checked up they will not receive any more.

Fatal Train Wreck.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 24.—The first section of the mail train from Boston to New York was wrecked near Dodgeville about 1 o'clock this morning by a freight car, carelessly left on the track. Mail Clerk Miller was killed and Clerk Murphy was probably fatally hurt. A number of passengers were slightly hurt.

Powderly Will Resign.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The Sun says it is reported on good authority that Powderly will resign as General Master Workman at the next convention of the Knights of Labor. The order is said to be in a bad way.

Senator Martin for Silver.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 24.—Senator Martin started for Washington this afternoon. He said he would vote for the repeal of the Sherman law only upon the condition that some better silver legislation be substituted.

Fatal Row at a Picnic.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 24.—During a picnic at Sonoma yesterday a serious fight occurred, in which two men were killed, one fatally hurt and others painfully injured.

Ex-Secretary Foster thinks the prospective action of congress on the tariff is doing more to impair values and destroy confidence than all else combined.

Over 300 armed negroes have arrived at Weir city, Kansas, and are quartered in a stockade. Eleven companies of militia are in readiness to start the mines.

Telegraphic Notes.

Many cases of cholera are reported at Piedmont, Italy.

The Vermont Marble Company employing 2,000 men, will reduce wages 15 per cent next month.

Drought and heat are damaging crops in Minnesota and North Dakota from 30 to 40 per cent.

The treasury department report the financial outlook brighter and speak confidently of the future.

France has not yet blockaded the coast of Siam. The foreign office and British ambassador are to hold a conference.

Over 8,000 people in Denver are said to be in destitute circumstances, and a meeting is to be held to devise means to provide for them.

Judge Stein has cited the directors and officials of the world's fair to appear and show cause why they should not be attached for contempt in disregarding the injunction to keep the fair open on Sundays.

The Farmers' National bank of Findlay, Ohio; the Wisconsin Marine and Fire Insurance bank of Milwaukee; the Merchants' National bank of Louisville; the Indianapolis National bank and the Bank of Commerce of Indianapolis, closed their doors yesterday.

Vice President Stevenson and party were welcomed at the state capital of Oregon yesterday by Governor Penoyer, who called attention to the hard times and attributed the business depression to the financial policy of the government. He called on the vice president to use his influence in favor of gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and the vice president said he would endeavor to co-operate with those who have in view the best interests of the people.

The Gresham Lectures in England.

The will of Sir Thomas Gresham, mercer, 1570, indicates the estimation in which the new learning was held in Elizabeth's reign. He provides that lectures shall be read on divinity, astronomy, music, geometry, law, physics and rhetoric. "None to be chosen to read lectures so long as he be married." The Gresham lectures are still a power in the land. I do not know whether the lectures are at this day exclusively bachelors and widowers.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Patent Office at Washington.

The patent office holds a model or a drawing of every invention known in the whole world and has paid something more than 1,000,000 over and above its own expenses, a sum which represents only a trifle of the great amount it has added to the wealth of the nation.—Harper's Young People.

Ayer's Pills

Are compounded with the view to general usefulness and adaptability. They are composed of the purest vegetable aperients. Their delicate sugar-coating, which readily dissolves in the stomach, preserves their full medicinal value and makes them easy to take, either by old or young. For constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, and the common derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels; also, to check colds and fevers, Ayer's Pills.

Are the Best

Unlike other cathartics, the effect of Ayer's Pills is to strengthen the excretory organs and restore them their regular and natural action. Doctors everywhere prescribe them. In spite of immense competition, they have always maintained their popularity as a family medicine, being in greater demand now than ever before. They are put up both in vials and boxes, and whether for home use or travel, Ayer's Pills are preferable to any other. Have you ever tried them?

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

What A Reno Teacher Says About It. It will be remembered that shortly after the close of the public schools quite a number of the teachers left Reno for a visit to Chicago and the World's Fair, where some still remain, while others are spending the time in travel, visiting friends, or are on their homeward way.

The following extract from a private letter to Mrs. M. S. Doten from Mrs. L. C. Booth, containing some account of her trip and visit to the fair, will be read with interest by the many friends of Mrs. Booth, as well as all those who can see the great exhibit only through the eyes of others.

ON THE TRAIN.
KANSAS CITY, July 17, 1893.
MY DEAR MRS. DOTE:—Little I thought I would be on my homeward journey, before I should have time to fulfill my promise to write to you. Shall I go back to the morning our farewells were said and give you an account of our trip to the world's fair? Not that I can in any way give you an idea of our delightful journey or the slightest conception of the whole affair, but just a little chat that may be gratifying to you, who are interested in us.

THE JOURNEY EAST.
As you know, we were on the Christian Endeavor Excursion that allowed stop-over privileges at Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, Manitou and Denver. We were just the party to enjoy every one of those privileges.

From Salt Lake, we rode out to Fort Douglas and on our return we visited Mormon Temple, Tabernacle, and other Mormon attractions. During the afternoon we visited the great Sultan bathing resort where we bathed in Great Salt Lake. The days following we visited Glenwood, Manitou and Colorado Springs, all favorite summer resorts. We no longer marveled at it when we saw what nature and capital had done for each. Our first Sabbath was spent at Denver, the queen city of the west, where we attended Denver service twice.

After a delightful ride of two days through the green meadows of Missouri, Kansas and Illinois, we arrived at our destination.

THE GREAT CITY OF CHICAGO.
Here we parted with Misses Clapp and Babcock, Bulison and Layton, who were to stay with friends, and Misses Gould, Unruh, my sister and myself went to the Knights of Pythias headquarters, which was recommended to Miss Gould by General Powning of Reno, who had kindly given her a letter of introduction to the officers in charge.

We were about twenty blocks from the world's fair grounds, but enjoyed the quiet of Hyde Park and the surprisingly moderate prices for which we were entertained.

After we had spent about seventeen days trying to see the world's fair we appreciated the fact that it is the world's fair.

All nations are exhibited there, and in a short time one almost feels an intimate association not only with the people of our own country and with the greatest countries of the globe, but even with those of Africa and Egypt or Java and Ceylon.

The plan of the official guide book divides the work of seeing the fair into seven days, and we devoted twice that time to each section. We were just beginning to feel discouraged that we had accomplished so little when we were told that if we devoted one second to each exhibit it would take us thirty-five years to see it all. So we remained another week, and each spent her time in what interested her the most. I, of course, tried to see the

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.
This was located in the manufacturers' building and occupied the entire length of the second story, a distance of 1,687 feet, the area allotted being 175,000 square feet. Each state was allowed space for its public school exhibit; notable displays were also made by all colleges, sectarian and private institutions. The wonderful scope is almost bewildering, and with a frenzied exasperation that I couldn't appreciate the foreign exhibit, I passed on to the agricultural building where I met Prof. Wilson of the state university of Nevada, who kindly directed us to

NEVADA'S EXHIBIT.
The mining and agriculture displays from Nevada were most artistically arranged by Mr. Yerington, who is deserving of much credit for the liberal interest he has taken in our beloved state. The little booth was handsomely decorated with yellow silk. Mounted upon black velvet panels were the grains from the Experimental Station at Reno. But when I asked from whence came the corn that so gracefully decorated the arches, I was sorry to learn it was borrowed from Illinois.

More anon, as I said in the beginning it is impossible for me, or any other human being, to write up the world's fair.
Sunshine, or a Sister's Love.
A beautiful and interesting service of song entitled "Little Minnie, or the Sunshine of a Sister's Love," will be given in the Methodist church on Tuesday, August 1, at 7:30 p. m., consisting of recitation by Miss Jennie Vosburg, interspersed with vocal music consisting of solos, duets, quartettes and choruses by the young folks of Reno, ably assisted by Rev. F. R. Winsor of Gold Hill, Rev. Henry Pearce and Miss Gertie Bowman of Carson City; W. O. Pearce, organist and conductor. Admission, 25c. Ice cream and cake will be served after the service for 25c. This is something new. Don't fail to attend.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

IMPROVE THE DRAINAGE.

An Enterprise That Farmers and Property Holders Generally Should Aid.

For several years the proposition of removing obstructions from the river channel a short distance below the O'Connor ranch, has been discussed and on several occasions feeble efforts made to accomplish something in that direction, but thus far the matter has ended, like the storms of modern weather prophets, chiefly in wind.

It seems to be a recognized fact that the wider and deeper the channel of the river at the mouth of the canyon, a short distance below the O'Connor ranch, would prevent destructive overflows on the Truckee Meadows and at the same time effectually drain and bring into cultivation a very large area of fertile lands which at the present time are practically worthless.

The cost of the work has been variously estimated at from $2,500 to $25,000. A competent engineer who recently visited the locality is of the opinion that $5,000 would be sufficient to accomplish the desired result.

Dull as times are it ought not to be a difficult matter to raise that amount of money, especially in view of the immensely beneficial results the whole community would derive from the expenditure. Thousands of acres of the very best land in the valley, the greater part of which is now given up to salt grass and tule, would at once be placed under successful cultivation and would add immensely to the taxable wealth of the county. Farmers on the Meadows spend a large sum of money every year to get rid of waste water, largely the result of insufficient river drainage. It will require concert of action to accomplish the work. All should be willing to contribute to the fund in proportion to the benefit they may reasonably hope to derive from it. While the owners of the overflowed land would derive the immediate and perhaps greatest benefit at the same time every property holder in the town would be indirectly benefited by the work. If a committee of farmers most interested would take hold of the matter in earnest, there is hardly a doubt but that the business men and property owners of Reno would contribute one-half the amount required to open the river channel in good shape. Will some one undertake the task?

BREVITIES.

New York's postoffice received $7,369,280 for the year ended on June 30th, an increase of $486,445 64 in a year.

The Silver State says: Central district is not only to the front as a gold bullion producer, but the boys down there came to the front in the interest of silver in the present contest between the producing classes and the shysters of the two continents and forwarded $125.50 to the silver fund. May they long wave and prosper.

Rafael Gabrica, cook at the Roma hotel, Carson, was drowned while bathing in the swimming pond at Shaw's hot springs, Monday evening. There were three men with him but they were not aware that he had disappeared until they saw him lying in the bottom of the pond. He was a native of Spain and his companions were Italians.

The JOURNAL is indebted to Superintendent Whited for a copy of the new time card which takes effect on the Central Pacific this morning. The only change is in the time of the arrival of express trains 1 and 2. No. 1, east-bound, will arrive at 9:20 p. m. instead of 8:20 p. m., as heretofore, and No. 2, west-bound, will arrive at 8:30 a. m., instead of 8:55 a. m., as heretofore.

Shut the Door.

You hear it constantly. The Regulator is the medicine for all disorders of the stomach. Try it and be convinced.

Failed to Agree.

STRAIGHT AMERICAN TALK.

A Farmer's Argument for Free Coinage.

Following is an extract from a letter from Lewis Raguet, a South Dakota farmer, to a friend at his old home. It is good, sound American talk:

The United States is a great country. It embraces all climates. It can produce anything that is produced anywhere on the earth's surface. In the arts and sciences, in the manufactures, minerals, gold, silver, iron, copper, lead, zinc, in fact everything, it leads the world. In education, in general intelligence of the people, in enterprise, ambition, power and patriotism, in all that exalts a nation, it is in the lead. By the inexorable law of the "survival of the fittest" it ought to be the dictator of the world—the dictator of all policies that relate to the material welfare of mankind. Let the United States in the exercise of their various supremacies declare for the free coinage of gold and silver. Let the United States plant upon each coin the American eagle. Let the gold dollar and the silver dollar shake hands in fellowship. No aristocracy of the one or the other, but walking arm in arm. But then the objection intervenes, how will you get the exports of other countries? Why, we won't get them at all, unless they are willing to admit the almightiness of the American dollar, whether gold or silver. And this takes me back to the premises laid down: The United States can live, prosper and advance in greatness independent of all nations. It can keep house by itself, dress in purple and linen and fare sumptuously every day. I do not believe in shading the financial policy of this country to suit the crumbling thrones of Europe. But I do believe in giving every industry and enterprise of the United States the fullest and broadest liberty to expand itself. I believe silver should have "equal rights for all, special privileges for none." Blaine once declared within my hearing that "gold and silver were God Almighty's money." I do not believe this in the literal sense, but I do believe it in the sense it was uttered. The chief end of government should be the peace, happiness and welfare of the masses—not the classes. The masses demand free silver—the classes demand a gold standard. Who shall rule in a government? By the people for the people.

TIRED OF LIFE.

Suicide of an Old Comstocker.

The man who was found a few days ago in an unconscious condition in J. N. Evans' hay field and removed to the county hospital, and there gave his name as Jacob Hoffman was found dead yesterday morning in an alley between Pearline and Lake streets. When discovered the body was sitting up against a board fence with an empty bottle in one hand, which subsequent investigations proved to have contained carbolic acid. The burned lips and mouth showed plainly that Hoffman had swallowed the contents with suicidal intent. He was discharged from the hospital Monday as cured. Papers on the body disclosed the fact that Hoffman is an old Comstocker and evidently at one time well to do.

Dyspepsia. There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:

"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for indigestion, indigestion, have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out of Constipation of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two tea-spoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed."

The Lamentable End of a Romance.
Fifty animal curls had bleached her raven tresses, placed crow's feet on her chamoislike skin and otherwise blighted her youthful loveliness, but the vigor of romance still lurked in her bosom. She inserted an "ad" in one of the Toledo dailies for a correspondent matrimonially inclined. The "ad" was answered by a gallant and sliding down the slope of his fiftieth anniversary. Photographs taken in their palmist days were exchanged, and last week the fair one came from her wind swept retreat in Iowa to meet her ideal, to join heart and hand with him and float happily on wings of love together to the end of their natural lives. Both had so changed in the many years since the pictures were taken that they failed to recognize each other in the train. Introductions followed.

They viewed each other for a moment, when she broke out with: "You have deceived me, and I shall never marry you. You are twice as old as you represented and as homely as a cartoon." The radiance vanished from the eager lover's face. Staggered, confused and razzie dazed, he bolted for the hotel door, letting fly a volume of cuss words, interlarded with expressions as "Vixen," "Jiffo," "She wolf" and "Old hen." The door closed behind him with a slam, and the afternoon matinee was over. The lady has returned to her home in Iowa, and the correspondent has laid aside his pen forever.—Toledo Bee.

A Rumor About Gloves.
There is a rumor moving mysteriously about that gloves may shortly go to some extent out of fashion. One or two well known dames have practically ceased to wear them. One of these is Lady Tichborne, who may often be seen out of doors with hands bare to wind and weather. Another is Lady Grey Edgerton, who always goes to the play without them. The beautiful Lady de Grey, too, generally takes her gloves off whenever she has a chance. I have seen her come into a concert room in the afternoon, holding her gloves in her hand like a man. But as yet few ladies have the courage to be seen about the streets altogether gloveless.

Many would hardly welcome such a fashion. In the first place, gloves give a finish to the toilet; in the second, it is hardly possible to keep one's hands perfectly clean for any length of time without them. This last fact will surely keep the fashion out. Then hands get brown in the summer sun, and though brown hands may be all very well in the country they hardly do for evening wear in town. A white arm, with a brown hand at the end of it, is scarcely prettier than a pale face decorated with a red nose.—Health and Home.

A European Walking Match.
The recent walking match from Paris to Rome was sufficiently original to have notice drawn to it. Each of the walkers, Cochar and Breaux, carried upon his shoulders a sack so well filled that it weighed 100 kilograms, more than 200 English pounds. The distance between Paris and Rome is 173 kilometers—about 108 miles.

The two men got over the ground in eight days, and one was only a little behind the other when the march was concluded. They are both workmen at Rheims, but the elder, who was beaten apparently because in the early part of the contest he did not take advantage of his ability to do with less sleep than the other, is a weaver, and therefore it could not have been his occupation that developed his muscles. Strange to say, that it was not the fatigue of the shoulders that tired them most, but the swelling and soreness of the feet.

It will be allowed that to walk 18 miles a day for eight consecutive days with a weight of 200 pounds upon the shoulders is a rather severe trial of human strength and endurance.—Toronto Empire.

Baptized After Death.
A queer story comes from Eagle Cleft, a small settlement on Lookout mountain. Several weeks ago J. W. Maseer was very ill with fever. He wanted to be baptized, and as this could not be done during his illness he requested that as soon as he died his body be immersed. He said he neglected it during his lifetime and wanted his death body baptized. A few days ago he died, and on the day of the funeral, at Hixon's Grove, the Rev. W. J. Drennan immersed the corpse in the presence of a large crowd of people. The body was then put back into the coffin and laid in the graveyard.—Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Taken on New Taxis.
The cigarette manufacturers have hit upon a new advertising dodge. Thus far it flourishes only in New York, but there is some danger of its spreading. They hire pretty girls to parade the parks and the principal avenues and display cigarette signs. It has reached such proportions that the police have been called upon to drive them out of Central park, and no more young women representing any brand of cigarettes will be allowed to promenade, ride or sit there. It seems to be a pretty good scheme to suppress before it spreads beyond its present confines.—Boston Herald.

Poor Hiram Peck.
For many a long year Hiram Peck of Southington has displayed this notice over his front door, "Live single, and you will be happy." Yet has he fallen a victim to the charms and graces of Miss Mary H. Browne of Meriden. When, as a married man, he takes that board down, he will not have been the first of his unfortunate and defenseless sex who has proposed and had a woman dispose for him.—New York Evening Sun.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. The production of hair is not an accident, but the result of scientific knowledge. Knowledge of the structure of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of a cure to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mercury nor oil. It is not a drug, and is absolutely cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Root Soap. It dissolves greasy matter, which feeds on and destroys the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, all rights of price. Grower, 25c per bottle; 4 for $2.00. Soap, 50c per jar; 4 for $2.00.

A Full Ride or No Fare.
An important case affecting the rights of passengers on street railways has just been decided by the practical admission of the counsel for the defendants in the case of Harry Sloan against the Baltimore Traction company that the claim of the plaintiff was a just one. Mr. Sloan on the night of Dec. 31 last boarded a cable car going east. The weather was inclement, and Mr. Sloan was ill. He tendered his fare to the conductor, the money was received, and the fare rung up. The car proceeded but a short distance when something happened in the cable, and the car stopped. Mr. Sloan waited for some time. The car didn't start, and he asked the conductor to return him his fare. This the conductor refused to do, saying that as it had been rung up it would be impossible for him to do so without losing it himself. Finally Mr. Sloan got out and walked to his home. He brought suit before Magistrate S. J. Clark and was awarded $5 damages and costs. The traction company appealed the case to the city court. When it came up for a hearing, however, the counsel for the company had the case dismissed, paying the costs, as well as the amount of the magistrate's judgment.—Baltimore American.

Summer's Herald in the City.
"The windows are open for the season now," said a man who lives in a boarding house block, "and we hear once more the tra-la-la-tra-la of the lady who is learning to sing. Her voice appears to have gained strength during the winter. We have again the incessant piano; we hear the shriek of the shrill canary. The boy who whistles has come again. The man who plays the cornet practices as perseveringly as ever; he is still trying to reach the high note. Hello there! Somebody started a thunder factory in the next block? No; it's the man who plays the trombone throwing out of the windows the winter's accumulation of broken notes and notes too big to go through the trombone.

"We hear the crying of infants and the giddy laughter of the young—all the many and varied sounds that are denied to us in winter when windows and doors are closed. I burst upon us now in full volume. One might be quite insensible to heat and cold and yet know by the sense of hearing alone that summer had come again."—New York Letter.

Dogs in Pittsburg Mines.
Many of the hills about Pittsburg are pierced with horizontal shafts admitting to the rich deposits of bituminous coal, and for many years there has been a race of hardy dogs employed as beasts of burden in these mines. A team of two dogs will gallop out of the mine dragging after them over the narrow gauge tramway a little car laden with many hundred pounds of coal. To the stranger who visits one of these mines it is somewhat alarming to hear behind him the rumble of the car accompanied by the quick steps of the dogs, for the creatures are sometimes fierce, and the man who should find himself in the way might fare ill. The guide, however, always finds a place of refuge, and the invisible team rolls by in the darkness, leaving the stranger behind.—St. Louis Republic.

The Success of the Big Fair.
Practically one-fourth of the time allotted to the World's fair has passed, and the attendance thus far indicates plainly that the great exposition cannot be called a financial success without heroic effort. It can be and it should be made a great national success. The whole world recognizes the magnitude and the excellence of the show. Let every citizen feel that it is incumbent on him to do something to help it. The honor and glory of the great republic are at stake.—New York Advertiser.

A Co-operative Pickpocket Scheme.
English pickpockets, it is said, have formed a little syndicate in London with the object of sending to the Chicago fair a number of the most accomplished pickpockets. The scheme is co-operative, and the pickpockets who are sent are to forward a percentage of their plunder to their brethren across the ocean.

A radish about a foot in length and with a complete knot tied in the center is a vegetable monstrosity, it is claimed, grown on the farm of Spencer Williams, near Pawnee, Kan.

To Brace Up.
The system after "La Grippe" pneumonia; fevers, and other prostrating acute diseases; to build up needed flesh and strength, and restore health and vigor when you feel run down and used up, the best thing in the world is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It promotes all the bodily functions, rouses every organ into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses, repairs, and invigorates the whole system.

For the most stubborn scrofulous skin or scalp diseases, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and kindred diseases, the "discovery" is the only remedy that is guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

Can you think of any thing that is more convincing than the promise that is made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy? It is this: "If we can't cure your catarrh, we will pay you $500 in cash."
